

WITH ALL DUE RESPECT?

Enjoy laughing at the failings, foibles and faux pas of others? Of course you do. Then why not contribute to WADR?
By email to wadr@liv.asn.au, by fax on 9607 9451 or by mail C/- The LIJ, 470 Bourke Street, Melbourne 3000.

MUSIC LOVER SHOWS LEGAL TWIST

Not once, but twice has APESMA Lawyers managing partner Joseph Kelly won WADR's Christmas song competition.

Mr Kelly combined his legal nous with his passion for tunes when entering the WADR legal song competition in December.

He won a copy of US attorney Lawrence Savell's fourth album The Lawtunes: Live at Blackacre. Mr Kelly also won the Lawtunes prize in 2003.

This year, Mr Kelly's winning entry included:

- best legal related song title: Bob Dylan – "You gotta serve somebody"; and
- best legal related song line: Rick Springfield – "Jessie's got a girl and I think she's kind of cute/I wanna tell her that I love her but the point is kinda moot".

Mr Kelly is a passionate music lover.

He said after buying his wife an iPod for Christmas last year he spent the majority of his holidays digitising his 1000 CDs.

But nothing compares to his vinyl collection, which was retired to the garden shed in its entirety for a period.

Mr Kelly said after buying a turntable recently, his record collection has returned to its pride of place – albeit along side the CD, DVD and now iPod assortment.