

New York University Bulletin

SCHOOL OF CONTINUING EDUCATION

THE LEGAL ABC'S OF DOING BUSINESS ON THE INTERNET

New Doing Business on the Internet: Legal Issues in Electronic Commerce
X11.9056/$180

§ Sec. 1: Tues. 6.10-7.50 p.m.,
Sept. 23-Oct. 28 (6 sessions).
Carole V. Aciman, Esq., coordinator and speaker.

This course explores the growing importance of digital technology and assesses the legal issues and implications of business done on the Internet. For consumers, entrepreneurs, and companies that hope to conduct Internet business safely and to seal agreements electronically, the needed systems and laws are on the way. Electronic cash, on-line banking, stored value and smart cards, digital signatures, and encryption are but a few of the current trends that are explored throughout this course. Guest speakers share their knowledge and experience as players or in representing publishing, software, communications, media, financial, and other entities doing business through the Internet. No prior legal background is necessary.

Speakers include (schedules permitting):

- CAROLE V. ACIMAN, ESQ.,
Chadbourne and Parke LLP.
- BARRY H. NEMMERS, ESQ.,
Chadbourne and Parke LLP.
- DREW M. WINTRINGHAM, ESQ.,
Chadbourne and Parke LLP.
- LAWRENCE E. SAVELL, ESQ.,
Chadbourne and Parke LLP.
- JACK HAYES and SUZI DELIO,
Del-Hay Associates.

ANNOUNCEMENT FOR FALL 1997

Vol. XCVII, No. 8 April 21, 1997

