

Lawtunes CD of Music and Comedy

New York lawyer Lawrence Savell has created another allegedly humorous, law-related music CD, “The Lawtunes: Live At Blackacre.” Breaking a bit from his prior albums — “Merry Lexmas From The Lawtunes” (2006), “Legal Holiday” (2004) and “The Lawyer’s Holiday Humor Album” (1998) — the new CD is a broader take on the law, lawyers and legal practice through 10 original rock ’n roll tunes in an album not limited by content or style to any particular season. It even includes a few love songs, although expressed in the language of an attorney.

To hear samples of the songs or order a CD, visit www.lawtunes.com.