Lawyer humor nearly catches up with library humor

LAWRENCE SAVELL, ESQ.

Despite Lawrence Savell's website opening with audio of dubious intent, the rest of the content could be awarded various accolades concerning originality, a deviation from the stereotype, and of course downright rib-tickling funny.

The Law Librarian fraternity would certainly appreciate the not excessively subtle allusions on the site that states it is "dedicated to the proposition that zealous representation of clients and furtherance of the public good can be only enhanced by a healthy willingness to poke fun at ourselves appropriately on occasion".

In fact, it is almost on a par with Warrior Librarian. But apart from that, it's pretty good ...
